The Habit

Member of the Kansas State High School Editorial Association

VOL. 12 JUNE, 1922 NO. 30

Published and printed weekly during the school year by the students of the Salina High School press room. Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice, Salina, Kansas.

TEN CENTS A COPY SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS A YEAR

Student Council

The initial year of the Student Council has resulted in progressive student administration in the Salina High School. The organization was founded with the purpose of giving the high school students an opportunity to express their opinion on school government, manage various school activities, and carry out other duties that might be handled by a student group. Among the most important work carried out by the council during the last semester has been planning the assembly programs, and installing a point system and a chapter of the National Honor Society in the Salina High. It has also set dates for school enterprises and managed special events, the most prominent of which was Field Day, May 19.

In all of its activities the student council has made progress in sound student administration and leaves some definite work as the result of its organization to the council of 1922-1923.

The Student Council owes its existence in the Salina High to Principal W. N. Van Slyck who inaugurated similar organizations in other schools where he has taught.

Art Class Contribution

The drawings and designing carried out in this year's annual are the work of the the high school art department. Heretofore THE HABIT staff has depended upon the contributions of the talented menbers of the school for this decorative feature of the commencement number of the paper. Under such an arrangement the drawings offered were limited, of uneven merit, and often out of harmony with the general plan of the book.

Among those members of the art department deserving of mention and to whom THE HABIT wishes to express its appreciation are — Gladys Elliott, who contributed the cover page; Thelma Nelson, the book plate; Olive Ziegler, the dedication; Alice Peden, the humor insert; Velma Williams, other classes; Josephine Copeland, organizations; Glenys Worrall, officer panels; Richard Federhen, mechanical work on panels, and Miss Tilton, whose continued interest and supervision were responsible for the art contributions as a whole.

First In Debate

The annual triangular debate, including Abilene, Junction City and Salina, was made a quadrangular contest this year by the entrance of Manhattan into the league. The S. H. S. affirmative team lost a close debate to Manhattan on the home floor, but defeated the Junction City negative in the second contest. The negative team was undefeated. In the final standing Salina placed first with eight decisions cast in her favor.

Mildred Brownlee, President Aiice Westurlund, Vice President
Katherine Davis, Secretary Frances Felt, Treasurer me next!

The Y. W. C. A.

With the installation banquet of May 8, the high school Y. W. C. A. closed its most active year since its organization. One hundred and sixty members, directed by an enthusiastic cabinet, this year realized more nearly the Y. W. C. A. ideal in the inspiration and the good times of the regular meetings and the parties of the club. The social service committee raised forty dollars for the support of Miss Vance, secretary to China, and gave a Christmas party for forty colored children of Salina. Regular cabinet and committee meetings were carried out, and a Standards department established. At the Topeka conference, Salina sent twenty-one, the second largest delegation. Finances have been taken care of by candy sales, Ladies' Home Journal Subscriptions, The Feast of Nations, and other money making schemes devised and carried out by the members. More than one hundred dollars are in the treasury to send delegates to Estes Park this summer.

Big Year for Hi Y

The growth of the Hi Y this year and its work both in and out of high school merit the ranking of the Salina club as one of the big three in the state. The high points of the year's program stated briefly are:

Hi Y Mixer. Watermelon feed. Eighty present.

Hi Y and Y. W. Hallowe'en Party at Camp Winemar. One hundred and fifty boys and girls from S. H. S. attend.

Older Boys' Conference. Thirty delegates go to Emporia.

Father and Son Banquet. Many sons present

Hi Y Issues Bulletin. John LeVan, editor, contributor, printer, circulator, and general manager.

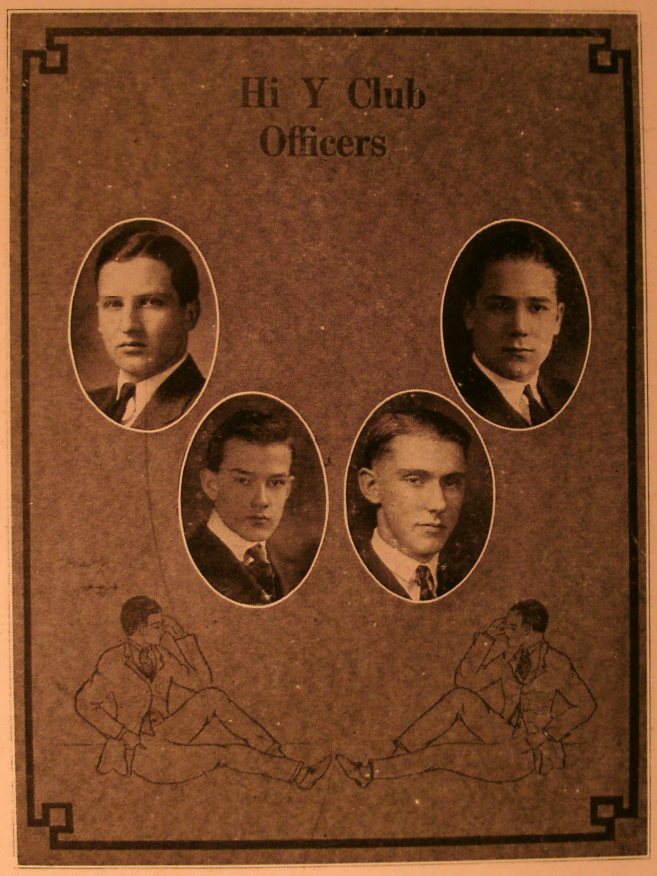

Friendship Campaign. B. V. Edworthy, C. C. Martin, Guy Gebhart at high school. Biggest Hi Y program of the year.

Hi Y Makes Donation to China. Forty dollars pledged.

Hi Y Banquet. All members present. Something to eat! W. S. Heusner talks; Howard Snyder whistles.

The club, occupying its own rooms in the Y. M. C. A. building was able to hold program meetings of wide interest. Worth-while speakers of wide experience and athletic numbers by high school students drew a good crowd each Tuesday.

The Hi Y of 1922-23 has selected for its officers Joe Anderson, Goodrich Gamble, Harry Floyd, Herbert Cooke. Laverne Aimes, Eugene Laubengayer, Edward Kimball and John LeVan make up the remainder of the cabinet. With Harold Colvin on deck again as general overseer the success of next year is assured.

ARGUMENT

Iamit, the king, has betrothed his daughter Princess Bon Bon to Prince Caspian. The couple have never met and the princess bemoans her fate in having to marry a man she has never seen. The prince desires to win the love of the princess as a man and not as a prince so disguises himself and courtiers as peddlers and enters the grounds of the palace. He persuades the maids of honor to allow him to seek the princess and soon wins her affections. He attempts to persuade her to give up the prince and elope with him. This she refuses to do but agrees to meet him at the ball room window that evening to say good-bye. Unwilling to let him go she hides him behind a curtain. Consternation reigns later when the king learns that the princess and prince are both missing. All are still more horified when the princess enters and announces that she intends to wed a humble peddler. Throwing aside the curtain she shows him to the court. Grief is turned to joy when the king recognizes the prince. The princess forgives the little ruse of the prince. In the meantime Ida takes advantage of a promise the king has made and proposes to him. He has to accept and Alain and Lilla decide to follow their most excellent example and there are three happy couples who are to be married "on Tuesday at noon."

Music by the High School Orchestra
C. F. Lebow, Director

"Clarence," a clever four act comedy by Booth Tarkington, presented by the juniors at the New Theatre last Friday, was a high school play that will be favorably remembered by the Salina audiences as a bit of genuine entertainment. The comedy was sparkling from start to finish in its portrayal of an American entomologist who had been in the army and was getting back to normal as a handy man.

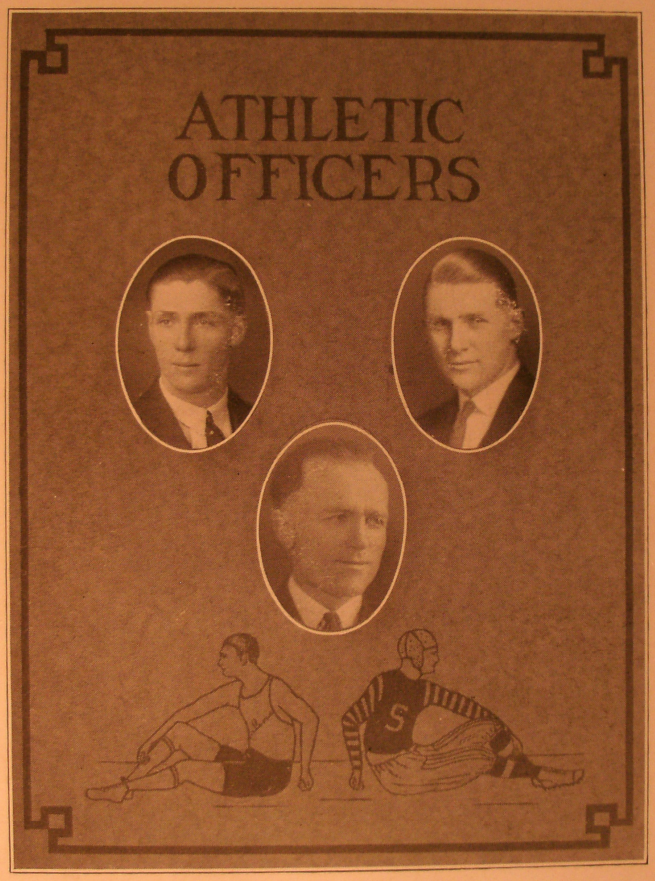

The entire cast was well chosen, and the acting was clever enough to call it one of the best amateur plays given here for some time.

The house was packed with an enthusiastic audience that was responsive to every clever line and good bit of acting.

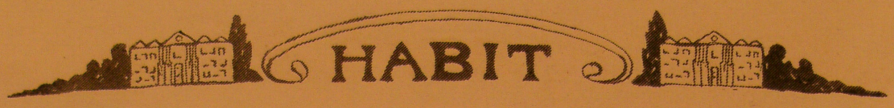

The music was furnisned by the high school orchestra of seventeen pieces under the direction of C. F. Lebow. Although handicapped by lack of room and proper lighting, the orchestra was in its best form and delighted the audience between acts.—The Habit, April 7.

THE HABIT

THE 1921-22 FOOTBALL TEAM.

The 1921-22 Football Team

CAPTAIN GEORGE SHERRY,

Fullback, Weight 184.

Football and "Jug" were synonomous. "Jug" could tear through an embankment of men like a tank. He often made 10-yard gain on a line plunge. A crippled knee put Sherry out of the game later in the season. George graduates this year.

ROBERT MUIR, Guard, Weight 173

"Bob" played a steady, dependable game. When he hit the enemy's line at least one man was laid low. "Bob" will return next year for more blood.

ROYAL BROWN, Center, Weight 160

"Browney" snapped the ball back from center with an accurate twist. He was light, but he tackled low. Brown will return next year with more pep.

WILLIAM NESMITH, Guard, Weight 196

"Nesty's" weight made him just naturally "there" when it came to holding the line. He was aggressive from the beginning to the end. This is his first year on the team and his last year in high school.

WILLIAM KANE,

Guard and Center, Weight 150

"Bill" was a strong defensive player and could take a lot of punishment. A bad knee kept Kane out of several games. Next year he will hold down a more regular berth.

AMOS JAY, Weight 174

Jay played every minute of the nine games this season. He was a solid man on the defense and always downed his opponent. Jay is one of the six letter men that graduate.

LEONARD CORPORAN, Tackle,

Weight 173

"Corp" was a good substitute for "Swede". He was a hard man to get through and often "smeared" many of the enemy's plays in their infancy. He will return next year to further Salina's fame on the gridiron.

JOE ANDERSON,

Quarter back. Weight 145.

"Little Joe" packed a wicked tackle and loved to use it. Foot ball came to Joe like a train to a station. He handled the team with a high grade of head work. This is his third year, He has another season with the S. H. S. squad.

HOWARD NELSON, End. Weight 140

"Howdy" made the first touchdown of the season. Pulling passes out of the ozone was "Howdy's" specialty. He also was a good back field man.

HAROLD HERZIG, Tackle, Weight 156

"Swede" used his height to block passes and was a consistent fighter. A lame leg put Herzig on the side lines later in the season. S. H. S. will lose a valuable tackle when "Swede" graduates this year

SAM GREEN, End, Weight 145.

Sam was a consistent ground coverer and a hard hitter on the line. The backfield also was in Green's sphere. With two years ahead of him on the high school team he may develop into a valuable backfield man.

ALLAN INGLE, Half back. Weight 135.

"The Flying Parson" was a good running mate for Collier. He was unrivaled at finding holes in a broken field. Ingle is from Newton and will graduate this year, if his luck holds out.

VERNE COLLIER, Half back. Weight 155.

"Stubby" was the fastest man on the team. He has six gains of 40-yards or more to his credit. A twisted ankle late in the season prevented him from making more. This is "Stubby's" senior year.

CAPTAIN HAROLD HERZIG, Forward.

"Swede" topped the list with the largest number of points in spite of an injured knee later in the season. Herzig had an eye for free throws and he had a dead aim from the floor. Herzig is graduating this year.

HOWARD NELSON, Guard.

"Howdy's" pep pulled the team out of many a hole. His smile never vanished and his fight never diminished. "Howdy" will hold down a more regular berth next year.

LEONARD CORPORAN, Center

"Corp" was the center on the all district team. His field goals and free throws made him next to Herzig as chief catcher for Salina. Corporan will be back for his senior year.

ALLAN INGLE, Forward.

"The Parson" placed as forward on the all district team. His speed and skill kept his opponents guessing. Many games were won by one of Ingle's distant shots in the last few second of the game. Ingle will graduate this year.

On 2nd All-league team

SAM GREFN, Forward.

Sam was a fast scorer and an unrelenting fighter. He showed up well especially in the later season games with scores when scores were needed. Sam will be back next year.

WILLIAM NESMITH, Guard.

"Nesty" although heavy won honorable mention in the district tournament. His fighting tactics were responsible for making Salina a hard team to beat. "Nesty" is also a senior.

JOE ANDERSON, Guard.

Joe had unlimited enthusiasm. His confident playing prevented many an opponent from scoring. Next year Joe will surprise the world.

The 1922 Track Season

Eight track men deserve special mention; though they did not gain letters they were hard workers and often netted winning point for the team. Lester Patrick was winner of the mile run against St. Johns. Donavan Middleton was also a miler. Donald Brown won distinction as a dash man that will make some fast time next year. Bob Muir was a wizard with the weight. William Kane, also a weight man was a strong half miler. Jennings McGuire took second in the district on the low hurdles. Herbert Glover was another hurdler. Russell Winterbotham made a good race in the quarter mile.

Captain Verne Collier

"Stubby" was a track team himself. He could do the 50-yard dash in 5:2, the 100 in 10:1 and the 220 in 22:3, put the shot over 40 feet and broad jump 19 feet, 7 inches. His records in track and field athletics are among the best of Kansas high schools. This is Verne's senior year, also his second year as track captain.

Howard Nelson.

"Howdy" was the second all around athlete. He starred in the dashes and hurdles, and never gave up in a race. It took a good man to beat him. "Howdy" is a junior.

Newell Terry

Terry's speed on the quarter was marvelous. He was main stay of the relay team, his time on the quarter ranging close to 53 seconds. This is Terry's junior year.

Billy James

Bill came to S. H. S. from Bartlesville and with a long stride and much wind brought home the bacon on the mile relay. He could be counted on for a big gain in the first section of the relay.

Harry Simpson

Harry had a stride that made the spectator gasp, his nine-foot pace saving the day more than once. In the half mile also he was a consistent placer. Simpson graduates this year.

Leonard Corporan

"Corp" was a sure point taker. He had perfect form on the hurdles and was hard to beat on the javelin and pole vault. His record in football, basketball and tract makes him one of the two all around athletes for 1922.

Lavern Aimes

Aimes was another relay man, who ran close to Terry on the quarter mile and outclassed all opponets on the half mile. On some meets he was not even hard pressed. Aimes has much chance for a big future next year.

By a GENTLEMAN WITH A SWATTER

1. Among high school characters looms the masterful orator, Kenton R. Cravens. This struggling follower of Webster finds himself able to effect a dignity of manner and knowledge of subject matter which is nothing short of profound. A certain brusquesness of personality together with the overwhelming belief that he can never be far wrong, distinguishes him from his classmates in that this apparent enlightenment does much toward balancing his slight discrepancies, from which, alas, Mr. Cravens is not entirely exempt. Whatever these may be, it must be confessed that his predominating ability has made itself felt in a way not soon to be forgotten.

2. A striking interrogator is he who has propounded so many times that question beginning, "What's the matter with ——?" McCurdy step forward. This loud voiced, ambling pep-enthusiast is best known through his position as cheer leader. In this line he is able to convert an otherwise mild group into a frenzied, yelling mob. In the class room he characterizes his presence when not sleeping, by noise and argument for the sake of which he would contend that two and two do not make four. Though his tendencies are somewhat more grown up, one might say that he had yelled his way to prominence.

3. An outstanding athlete and true sportsman is the combination found in Herzig. That his athletic ability is unquestionable has always been known, but only recently have his forensic powers come to light. As a speaker, he is most popular at pep-meetings, where his eloquence becomes so great that he is almost struck speechless. Another interesting feature of his speaking is that he always says the same thing. This is important since it relieves the audience from the arduous task of being attentive. Such rare ability, together with a perpetual smile genial and optimism, have earned for him the distinguishing appellation of "Swede." also his low neck

4. Another astounding executive is John LeVan. One of the chief accomplishments is to always look handsome, and toward this end the marcelled arrangement of his hair adds considerably. In the art of high finance his genius bids well to overshadow the wizard Ponzi. Their main difference, however, lies in the fact that the latter tried it, the other merely dreams about it. (That his dreams materialize before the prom, has been the secret prayer of all seniors). Just why he should decorate the presidency might be attributed to the bit of legislations providing for women suffrage. As has been previously hinted, the efforts expended on his personal appearance would warrant a majority vote.

5. A particularly popular person by virtue of his ability to blow a saxaphone is Joe Owens. Besides a musical affiliation with the high school orchestra he has allied himself with an all "sax" band and, according to latest reports, had nearly perfected the genuine saxaphone wail, which is required in such organizations. In addition to preying upon the musical sensibilities of mankind, he acts as president of the sophomores. Though a logically unimportant group, Mr. Owens has made its presence significant, whether because he introduced Tope Kan tactics or is just naturally able is best decided by the sophomores themselves.

6. Behold the reflection of presidential success cast by Addison Walker. Under his leadership several of the most important organizations of the school have advanced to a point of unparalleled perfection. Be it Student Council or Hi-Y Club, the same satisfying results are invariably achieved. Aside from a leader's instinct, he has the faculty of making himself popular, and in a most unobtrusive manner. His geniality to everyone is no doubt responsible in a large measure for his popularity. As president of the juniors once in his career, he has never quite outgrown the natural affection for members of that group. Assuming the possibility of his developing a preference for something more advanced each year, he may one day reach the highest pinnacle of presidential achievement.

7. Mr. Newcomb. Why say more? As in other things, the same means much. To juniors and seniors it implies an easy teacher; to sophomores, the cause of many jokes but little humor. Recently annexed to the high school faculty he has already won his students, heart and soul, in addition to providing a sample of humor, which, at present, is far out of proportion to the law of supply and demand. Based on the favorite themes of his classroom, he is politically, socially, and economically an asset to the school. The successful debating teams and his contributions to the editorial page are specific examples of his working presence in S. H. S. To those who have not as yet come under the surveillance of his watchful eye, it is only fair to say that there is great consideration in Room 11, for loquacious and super-informed students, who wish to have a part in conducting class in a masterly way.

8. Who has not read of the invisible power, or the hand behind the throne, and not thought of Miss Miles? Nearly everyone is acquainted with her authority, and specifically those whose fate has led them to Room 13 for a course of Latin instruction. Within the walls of this ominous room, the faltering student may not only pass one year, but four, if he has the perseverance to overcome Caesar's strenuous campaigns or the difficult orations of Cicero. Though some might think that all is glum and stern within her classes, such is not the case. This staunch admirer of Roman heroes appreciates the value of a laugh, especially if the merriment is forthcoming after the display of some original wit. Would-be linguists who have heard of the tortures worked upon erring students in the mysterious Room 13, need have no fears if they faithfully meet the requirements of providing a perfect lesson or a good excuse each day. (It is not well to employ the latter too frequently.)

—Ex.

A boy in a training school was asked to write a poem of love. The following resulted:

Love is a queer thing shaped like a lizzard. It runs up your spine and down your gizzard.

He—Aren't you going to obey fashions latest degree and wear your dresses longer?

She—Certainly! Why, I've had this one two hours.—Ex.

Percy and his girl had just encountered a bulldog that looked as if he might shake a mean lower jaw.

"Why, Percy," she exclaimed as he started a prompt retreat, "You always vowed you would face death for me."

"I would," he flung back over his shoulder, "but that dog ain't dead."

—American Legion Weekly.

SHORT WEIGHT

"Hey, Rodney, look here! I weigh three pounds more'n you!"

"Aw, g'wan; y'r cheatin', skinny! Youse got y'r hands in y'r pockets!"

—American Boy.

HIS BOOKMARK

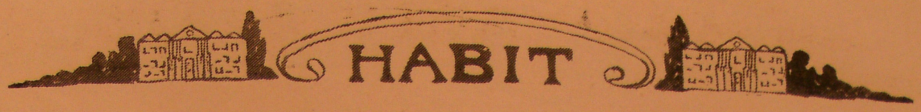

"How far have you studied, Johnny?" inquired the teacher.

"Just as far as the book is dirty, ma'am."—Ladies' Home Journal.

He: My mind is sort of a memorandum.

She: Oh, I see, a sort of a blank book.

HABIT

Among the Exchanges

The "Habit" exchange list includes fifty school publications full of high school life and interest. These papers represent largely leading high schools and colleges of Kansas, but a number come from schools in adjoining states. Weekly and bi-weekly newspapers make up the greater part of the regular exchanges, but dailies and monthly magazines are among the school publications. From these papers the exchange editor gets his column "Other Schools" and the "Gas Line" copies many of its original jokes.

The list of "The Habit" exchanges follow:

High School Promoter, Clay County.
T. H. S. World.
El Doradoan.
Blue and White, Junction City.
University Daily Kansan.
State Normal Bulletin.
College Life.

ACHIEVEMENT

The goal of every ambitious man and firm is typified in the rapid growth of the Jahn & Ollier Engraving Company—the universal esteem in which their art and plates are held by the large national advertisers—and the enviable reputation for prompt deliveries which they enjoy.

Delivering this same high quality and careful personal supervision to schools has built up for us the largest college and high school annual engraving business in America—400 books yearly.

Thirty thousand square feet of floor space (4 floors) and over two hundred and fifty skilled employees are required to meet the constant demand for "J&O" commercial photographs, art, color process plates and photo engraving (one complete floor is devoted to color process work).

Intelligent supervision of all work by many skillful office service men eliminates your troubles. Sales service men sent everywhere

Our Own Home Towm

Abraham Lincoln once said

"I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives. I like to see a man live in it so his place will be proud of him."

We believe in this community—in the citizens who are proud of living here—in our good schools and churches—in successful farmers and enterprising business men—and we believe in this bank with Salina's interest at heart.

On these beliefs we base our s rvice and invite your account.

Planters State Bank

Behind every article of merchandise that we sell, stands the name of some great manufacturer, a guarantee of quality.

Our suits are from Fashion Park and Hickey Freeman,

and our other furnishings bear the label of Wilson Brothers, a symbol of reliability for sixty years.

From them we pass on to you a service of fair pricing and quality which will assure you of satisfaction.

A NEW WORLD TO CONQUER

Among the important things, Experience teaches that the sooner contact is established with a strong, reliable bank, and the earlier a bank account is started, the greater are the possibilities for Success.

This Bank welcomes young people, and endeavors to assist them whenever possible.
